FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ABMA Opens General Registration for BOILER 2022

Vienna, VA – November 18, 2021 – Registration is now open for the first and only event focused exclusively on the boiler supply chain with direct engagement between boiler industry manufacturers and those involved in the purchasing, operation and maintenance of boilers.

With two days of exhibition and insightful educational content, there is a unique opportunity to connect with the leading manufacturers in the boiler industry and learn about today's solutions to address boiler room needs and challenges. If you work with boilers, this is a can't miss event.

An All-Access pass enables an attendee to fully experience BOILER 2022 that includes the keynote session featuring former NASA Chief Astronaut and Commander of the International Space Station Chris Cassidy, timely educational sessions, 75+ boiler industry exhibitors in the expo hall, industry tours, social events and much, much more. Supply chain partners can also purchase one- and two-day expo only passes.

Early bird pricing is available until January 21, 2022.
