FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The American Boiler Manufacturers Association Announces (ABMA) BOILER 2021 Is Moving to April 2022

Vienna, VA – November 5, 2020 ABMA is moving its inaugural Boiler Technology Conference and Expo (initially titled BOILER 2021) to April 11-13, 2022. The event now becomes BOILER 2022.

The move to 2022 acknowledges the challenges in 2021 to produce a successful large-scale event that includes a tradeshow along with significant member and end-user participation.

"We surveyed our members and the message was clear. Moving our inaugural conference and expo to 2022, was the best decision for the association, our members and boiler supply chain, stated ABMA President Scott Lynch.

ABMA has decided to reschedule BOILER 2021 (now BOILER 2022) for April 11-13.

ABMA will share more details and a timeline in early 2021 in addition to announcing alternate initiatives to begin direct engagement with our end-user community in the 2021.
